

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPORT

CONCORD, N. H., December 1, 1922.

The tax commission submits its twelfth report containing statistics of valuations, taxes and finances required by law to be published annually.

The total valuation of the state, as of April 1, 1922, is $566,469,344, an increase of $36,315,330, or about 6 per cent, over that of 1921. General property taxes, locally assessed, increased $675,563, or about 5 per cent, and the average rate of taxation decreased from $2.48 to $2.44,—the first time in eleven years that a decrease has occurred.

The increase in the valuation of the state clearly reveals the fact that an equalizing process has been operating, not only this year but throughout the last decade. The real estate valuation increased over that of last year about 6 per cent; mills and machinery increased about 15 per cent; stock in trade increased about 12 per cent; intangibles increased about 9 per cent; while livestock decreased in total valuation about 14 per cent, and manufactured wood and lumber decreased about 40 per cent. In 1922 eighty-five towns, or more than one-third, fell off in their total valuation, to a total amount of nearly five million dollars. The eleven cities of the state now represent a valuation slightly greater than that of all the 224 towns, whereas three years ago the valuation of the towns exceeded that of the cities by over twenty million dollars. It is impossible to separate the farming real estate from the homes, the homes from the summer property, so-called, or the summer property from the business blocks so as to give any idea of the distribution of the tax burden as between different kinds of real estate. The only figures which can be made with any accuracy are a comparison of the real estate valuations of cities with that of towns. A difference of 20 per cent or thereabouts in the increase of real estate valuation of cities over that of towns since 1910, and an increase in the total valuation of cities of about sixty million dollars in the last three years as compared with an increase of about thirty-six million dollars for the 224 towns in the same period indicate, in some degree, that increases in all valuations have not been made arbitrarily simply for the purpose of raising values to lower tax rates. Since 1910, the year before the creation of the tax commission, the increase in the total valuation of the state has been from $252,000,000 to $566,000,000, or 133 per cent. This increase is made up, by classes of property, as follows,—real estate 105 per cent, mills and machinery 280 per cent, stock in trade 270 per cent, livestock from 50 per cent to 95 per cent, intangibles 50 per cent but showing a loss of 40 per cent since 1912. These increases, considered with the trend of actual values during that period, afford convincing evidence that, so far as tangible property is concerned, a substantial equalization has taken place,—that those classes of property which were considered to be undervalued more largely than others have received their full share of attention,—that increases have been made where increases in actual value have occurred, as well as where undervaluation existed, and that the best result obtainable under our existing system of taxation has been, as a whole, practically reached. But we need only to point to the 40 per cent decrease in the valuation of intangibles since 1912, and to the fact that a very determined effort to enforce the intangible tax law, made this year, was attended by a wholly negligible success, to demonstrate the practical, utter failure of our system of taxation so far as that class of property is concerned. The need of reform with regard to the taxation of intangibles has been urged by this commission year after year, but not until extremely burdensome and obviously unequal taxes have furnished the goad has the public been aroused from its lethargy concerning this condition. It is apparent that public opinion in New Hampshire, in self defense, is now hastening to remedy a condition too long neglected.

An examination of the progress of public expenditure, and of its distribution among different classes of property owners demonstrates that the public concern is not ill founded. In 1910 the total taxes assessed locally were $5,250,240, while in 1922 they are $15,029,801, an increase of 187 per cent or nearly three times what they were twelve years ago. When the increase of 187 per cent in taxes is compared with 133 per cent increase in valuation, and this increase in valuation is seen to be falling on tangible property while intangible property valuations decrease, the magnitude of the increasing burden on tangible property becomes apparent. Within this last year one hundred and twenty-five towns, or more than half, increased in their amount of taxes, and one hundred towns show a tax rate higher than that of 1921. This year the state tax is $650,000 less than it was a year ago, but county taxes increased about a hundred thousand dollars, and the taxes of the towns and cities increased $1,225,000, leaving a net increase over 1921 for state, county and local taxes of $675,000. The state debt this year has decreased about $1,300,000, but the debt of counties and municipalities has increased $636,000, leaving a net decrease in the total debt of about $700,000, due wholly to the decrease in the state debt. From these facts two sets of conclusions are to be drawn; first, that the state government has been admirably financed, and not only has reduced its direct tax, but at the same time has paid more than 50 per cent of its debt, all in a year and a half; second, that the cities, towns and counties are responsible wholly for present increases in taxes,—that their taxes are increasing at the rate of about 10 per cent a year, and that, notwithstanding this increase in taxes, they are plunging further in debt to the extent of well over half a million dollars annually. It rests with the taxpayers themselves whether or not this course shall be pursued. In many states the legislature has imposed limits on tax rates to limit expenditures. We do not approve this policy. It breeds fraud, confusion and discontent, and tends too closely to restrict "home rule." In New Hampshire we do limit the amount of indebtedness which may be incurred, however. This is a wise policy founded on the theory that the credit of all towns and cities will be improved, and their ability to float indebtedness for necessary improvements materially aided thereby in the practical operation of marketing their securities. Our experience has justified our faith in this law, and where it has worked hardship the legislature has granted special legislation. An examination of comparative costs of government convinces us that our per capita cost of about forty dollars per head for all our government is exceedingly low. An examination of comparative conditions convinces us that other states are confronted with our problems and most of them in measure greater than ours. It seems, therefore, that we are dealing with general economic and social tendencies rather than with conditions or habits peculiar to New Hampshire, and that we are meeting these tendencies with much more than average foresight and ability so far as the expenditure of our money is concerned. But on the other hand we have been ultra conservative, reactionary, even, so far as methods of raising our money for these expenditures is concerned. There is hardly a state in the union which, in very recent years, has not changed materially, or is not now about to change its system of raising revenue to meet changed conditions. Our revenue from direct taxes, exclusive of motor vehicle, fish and game, insurance and miscellaneous fees, for all purposes of government, state, county, city, town, school and precinct, is derived in amount and proportion as follows,—

Poll taxes,	$1,231,687	7.0%
Savings Bank taxes,	673,460	3.9%
Railroad, telephone, telegraph, express and car companies,	1,200,860	6.9%
Inheritance taxes,	488,958	2.8%
General property taxes,	13,828,114	79.4%
Total,	$17,423,079	100.0%

Direct taxes locally assessed are,—

Poll taxes,	$1,231,687	8.1%
General property taxes,	13,828,114	91.9%
Total,	$15,059,801	100.0%

General property taxes locally assessed are distributed among classes of property roughly as follows,—

Real estate,	63.1%	} all real estate, 79.5%
Mills and machinery,	16.3%
Aqueducts, locks & canals	.1%
Stock in trade,		14.0%
Intangibles,		2.2%
Livestock,		2.0%
Portable mills and boats,		1.3%
Manufactured wood and lumber (not stock in trade),		-1.0%
Total,		100.0%

Since the taxes on real estate of all kinds bear about 80 per cent of the general property taxes, and the general property taxes bear nearly 80 per cent of the grand total of all tax revenue amounting to $17,423,079, it appears that the taxes on real estate of all kinds produce nearly two-thirds of this grand total. The Savings Bank taxes are 3.9 per cent of the grand total, while the taxes from all other taxable intangibles in the state are only 1.75 per cent thereof and only 2.2 per cent of the general property taxes, and this small ratio is constantly diminishing. When it is considered that the intangible wealth of the state may equal or even exceed the tangible wealth the inequality of the distribution of the burden is manifest. Our existing system offers no effective remedy for this condition, nor does it provide an effective method for the treatment of growing timber which is commencing to feel acutely the burden of full valuation under heavily increasing taxes.

A computation of the distribution of the average town and city dollar for the year 1921 discloses that 26.1 cents went for highways, 21.5 cents for schools, 11.2 cents for state taxes, 4.7 cents for county taxes, 1.1 cents for precincts, 4.3 cents for administration expense, 6.2 cents for protection of persons and property, 5.7 cents for payments on indebtedness, 8.6 cents for new sidewalks, sewers, lands and buildings, 3.2 cents for interest on temporary and permanent loans, 1.4 cents for health, .9 cents for libraries, .9 cents for charity, .4 cents for patriotic purposes, .6 cents for recreation and 3.2 cents for miscellaneous expenses. Schools and highways use nearly fifty cents of every dollar spent. The proportion of the dollar used for highways is the highest of any item and is increasing. The motor vehicle traffic demands good highways and uses them now almost exclusively. It should bear the burden of maintenance and repair thereof, if not, in part or whole, the burden of new construction, in the proportion to the use made thereof as near as may be.

As taxes and debt continue to increase, all property which ought to be taxed should be taxed, and in such manner as to afford the greatest return and yet to conserve and if possible to increase the base upon which the tax is levied; exemptions should be limited to property which is public or quasi-public in its nature; such new sources of revenue as may be found should be reached; and a thoroughgoing, impartial effort to equalize tax burdens should be made and continued consonant with the constitutional declaration that "every member of the community * * * is * * * bound to contribute his share."

Recommendations.

We recommend

1. The reassembling of the constitutional convention of 1918, for the purpose of submitting to the people proposed constitutional amendments, in their order of preference, permitting the legislature

- (a) to classify all property for taxation, or
- (b) to impose a tax on incomes from whatever source derived, or
- (c) to classify intangible property or the income therefrom for taxation.

If it be possible, without endangering the passage of either, for practical reasons we recommend the submissions both of (a) and (c), or of (b) and (c).

If (a) is not submitted we also recommend the submission of an amendment permitting the classification of growing timber.

2. If no constitutional amendments are to be submitted, we recommend such legislation as the supreme court may declare constitutional placing a tax on income from intangibles, preferably if possible, at a rate not less than 4 per cent, levied by the state and distributed to the towns and cities in proportion to their assessed valuation. If such a tax can be levied only by the different localities at the local rates of taxation it ought not to be attempted.

3. A gasoline tax, so-called, at two cents per gallon, combined with such scale of motor vehicle fees as will provide, at least, for the effective maintenance and repair of a sufficient system of state highways.

4. That no further exemptions be granted; and that the law permitting the exemption of manufacturing industries be repealed, but such repeal, of course, should not attempt to affect existing exemptions.

5. A clearer definition by the legislature of the terms "customarily maintained" as employed in laws of 1911, chapter 52, relating to the taxation of wood and lumber, and a definition in the same law as to the measure of value of wood and lumber when taxed either as "stock in trade" or at "full value."

6. A legislative definition of the words "raw material" as applied to the taxation of the stock in trade of manufacturers.

7. A legislative declaration as to what time on April 1, in any year, ownership of taxable property shall be determined.

8. Insertion of the words, "their pastors" after the words "their officers" in section 1, chapter 41, Laws of 1921, and the repeal of that part of section 2, chapter 55, Public Statutes, relating to parsonages.

9. The repeal of section 2, chapter 189, Laws of 1917, and the substitution therefor of the following,—
"if any state exempts deposits in savings banks in this state, including interest thereon, to owners residing in that state, the provisions of this act shall not apply to deposits in savings banks and the interest thereon in that state."

10. The amendment of section 5, chapter 129, Laws of 1917, so that debt may be incurred, if necessary, in cases of emergency such as washouts or destruction of public property the immediate replacement or repair of which is a public necessity.
